

Performance Commentary

SKAGEN Insight performed in-line with the broader equity market during July. We continue to see an increased sense of urgency at several of our portfolio companies. More broadly, we have seen the number of activist campaigns increase +15% YoY so far this year.

ThyssenKrupp and Eitel were the fund's largest positive contributors. ThyssenKrupp's positive share price performance was driven by market speculation that the recent departures of the company's CEO and Supervisory Board Chairman will unlock the roadmap to value-accretive restructuring. We share this view and believe that ThyssenKrupp could be worth as much as double its current market value if its suboptimal structure is untangled. Consequently, this situation remains Insight's largest position because of its attractive risk-reward profile.

Diebold Nixdorf and Armstrong Flooring were the fund's largest detractors. The transformation process at Diebold is accelerating with a new CEO at the helm but this has resulted in some near term pain for investors. We continue to believe, however, that it will translate into longer term gains. Insight has a portfolio of deeply undervalued and underappreciated companies where fundamental trends are moving in the right direction and activists are increasingly becoming the catalyst for change.

SKAGEN Insight invests in a diversified and actively managed portfolio of companies exposed to some of the most attractive activist campaigns globally. Activists seek to unlock value by urging companies to make improvements. SKAGEN Insight "shadows" activists by investing in these companies. The objective is to provide the best possible risk adjusted return. The fund is suitable for those with at least a five year investment horizon.
